The Builders

*I was a King and a builder, a Lord of work and of men,
And of a palace I thought me, greater than all that Kings had made till then,
At my word, deep down began the digging,
And behold, when it was done,
The wreck of an ancient building, once by a king begun!
There was no skill to commend it, it's planning showed naught of art,
This way and that way, and heedless, in ev'ry part,
Rough was the stone, misshapen, but carved on it far and wide:
"Lo, I wait for the builder, Tell him, I too have tried."
Swiftly I seized on the ruin, for its wreck my needs would fill,
I scattered the crumbled foundations, and bent them a-new to my will,
And for lime burned the marble, making it mortar instead,
Using the best of my gifts that were left me by the dead.
Yet not in pride of destruction, but with a wrench as of guilt,
For all of that shapeless fragment the soul of a king had built,
And all his thought and his planning, the dream of his ideal,
I saw in the ghost of his efforts, with its futile attempt at the real.
I was a King and a Builder, in my strength I feared not a foe.
There came a message mysterious, a whisper that spoke soft and low.
It said, "Thy labor is finished, the end is not yet willed;
For thy palace shall be but a fragment where Kings of the Future shall build."
The noise of hammers grew suddenly silent, the hands were as numb,
The work of my pride I abandoned to the mercy of years to come,
But on the stones and the timbers, carved I the words far and wide:
"Lo, I wait for the builder, Tell him, I too have tried."*

Teachers College

Since the erection of the Van Fleet Teachers College in 1917 there has been great expansion in this college; the degree of Bachelor of Science of Education has been granted since 1926. There is a well-directed laboratory of twelve grades for the training of teachers. The work being done in the Teachers College at this time is receiving commendation in progressive educational circles. Greater growth will be possible when adequate equipment can be supplied.

The College Council is a group representing the student population and includes the class presidents as well as members elected by the class. It takes an active part in determining student policy, and regulates inter-class friction of any kind. Class Elections, Inter-Class Meets, and High-school day are among the functions managed by the College Council. This spring especially the council did constructive work in making the big high-school day a success.

DR. M. E. GILBERT

Class of 1900

Extension Secretary

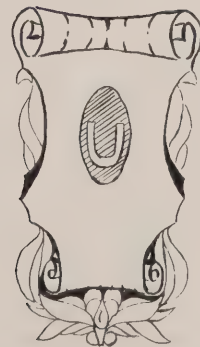

The Endowment and the New Athletic Field

The man who has these two projects on his heart more than any other individual is our genial, inspiring, progressive treasurer and extension secretary, Dr. M. E. Gilbert, member of the class of 1900.

When Mr. Gilbert assumed the duties of his office October 1, 1925, the status of the endowment fund was as follows: Three and one-half years of the five year time limit set by the General Education Board had elapsed, and no money had been collected on the quarter of a million conditional pledge of that Board. This pledge was conditioned on the university's keeping free from indebtedness, and also on the actual collecting and investing of our own subscriptions. On these terms, the Board agreed to pay one dollar for every two dollars collected by the university, up to a maximum payment of a quarter of a million dollars.

Dr. Gilbert immediately set to work to realize on this gift. It is a long story, but the important items are these. By April 1, 1928, we had met every condition imposed by the General Education Board, and a few days later, we received the quarter of a million dollars in full, that had been promised by the Board. During these four years, the actual invested endowment of the university has increased from $399,000 to $924,472. In addition to this, the university has assets in the form of annuity property, unpaid notes and other subscriptions, amounting to a grand total of $1,607,049.

In the midst of such activities directly connected with the endowment office, Dr. Gilbert is taking time to push the new athletic field project. During the forty years of Wesleyan's life, very little has been spent on out-of-doors athletics, by the institution. But with this new project, a distinct forward movement in this branch of college life has been inaugurated. When complete, the athletic field and equipment will cost $30,000, and will include a quarter-mile cinder track, a two-twenty yard straight-away, three thousand concrete seats, and a beautiful iron fence around the field.

The first senior function this year of importance was the Recognition Day in November. The senior breakfast was held at the University Club rooms in Lincoln, after which the class returned for the ceremony.

The formal reception given by Chancellor and Mrs. I. B. Schreckengast in April was an affair pleasing to all seniors. It was held in the Chancellor's new home.

Next to the graduation exercises, Senior Sneak Day is the big affair in spring. A big day is held by the seniors, and the juniors find out what campus supremacy is.

A stirring tragedy depicting college life was enacted by the juniors in March of this year. The title of the play was "The Disappearance". By fair means or foul—fair if you're a junior, and foul if you're a senior—a badge of some importance was spirited away from senior possession and locked with a padlock. The theme-song of this drama was sung by the juniors on the campus for days—"Oh Where, Oh Where, Has the Senior Dog Gone?"

The seniors haven't remarked yet what they thought of the play.

Bryan Memorial Hospital Affiliates

By the generous consideration of the University Board of Trustees, Bryan Memorial Hospital School of Nursing became affiliated with Nebraska Wesleyan University in September 1927. Thus it became possible for a large group of promising young women under the inspiring leadership of Miss Myrtle Dean and Mrs. Alta Leonard to supplement the preparation in the School of Nursing with university courses in chemistry, bacteriology, anatomy, physiology, psychology, dietetics, public speaking and English for which they receive college credit. The affiliation makes it possible for these young women to complete the required work for the degree of bachelor of science within a comparatively short time after completing the required work in Bryan Memorial Hospital School of Nursing.

This group of splendid young women is an asset in the student body of the University. Their fine responsiveness to the opportunity for cultural influences as well as practical training is manifested in the superior service they render in the performance of hospital duties. A University is honored when the members of its student body meet the crises of life with skill, intelligence, fortitude, and true refinement of manner and spirit.

The Nebraska Wesleyan High School is under the supervision of the university. The enrollment has been increasing; about seventy-five are now attending. The senior class is the largest it has ever been. High school parties are held during the year, and much school spirit has been manifest at the athletic contests. The debate team has had a successful season. The grade school is a part of the Lincoln School System.

Wesleyan High School Seniors

The Wesleyan High School basketball team has made a name for itself this year with Tom Chittendon as coach. First in the Greater Lincoln League, they won twenty-two out of their twenty-five games. In the Wesleyan high school tournament this team were runners-up in Class A, and in the Nebraska State tournament, they were runners-up in Class B. Two trophies are theirs because of their successful season.

Senior Kindergarten Girls

The aim of the Kindergarten-Primary Department is to encourage desirable changes in thought, feeling, and conduct in the child. An attempt is being made to bring greater unity in the whole program.

This year twenty-seven Senior Kindergarten girls taught in kindergarten, and also in primary grades. The Junior Kindergarten girls study in theory classes and observes both in Wesleyan Training Schools and Lincoln Public Schools.

School of Art

The work of the School of Art consists of drawing, design, painting, position, modeling, and other forms of art. There is a department of history and criticism in which the student is given an insight into the culture, the learning, the architecture, the sculpture, the painting and crafts of man as he lived and worked throughout the ages.

The "Et-Te-Lap," organized last year, is an honorary club for students in the School of Art. Its purpose is to create a greater appreciation of art and originality in the university. It encourages high ideals in art and culture in their relation to every day life. "Et-Te-Lap" sponsors exhibits in the studio, and is hostess for the department on High School Day.

Directory and Handbook

The Nebraska Wesleyan handbook and directory was again published by the Y.M.C.A. this year with Paul Anderson as editor and Gaius Watt as business manager for the second year. The book is larger this year and contains much of importance to students, including faculty, student, and social organization lists, as well as schedules of classes, athletics, and activities.

The Alumni

Three alumni bulletins are issued each year, each one containing a great abundance of material which interests all alumni of Wesleyan. Mrs. Edith Riley Currier is the editor of the magazine which is issued as a bulletin of Nebraska Wesleyan.

The Student Publication Board

The Publication board is composed of both faculty and student members who approve all contracts entered into by the publications of Nebraska Wesleyan. It also acts as counsellor and advisor to the editors and business managers.

Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic fraternity is the moving spirit behind dramatics in Nebraska Wesleyan. One of the big things that the organization has done this year has been the buying and hanging of the curtains on the stage.

The season of plays this year has been very successful. The first play of the season was "Little Eyolf", a dramatic play. "The Patsy", a three-act comedy was the second number. "Erstwhile Susan", a comedy of the Pennsylvania Dutch was followed by "Belinda", starring Miss Enid Miller. The Players gave "Bab" for High School day. The season was successfully closed by a night of one acts.

"Row Out" is the slogan of Nebraska Alpha of Pi Kappa Delta. These words are adopted from the motto of the Cambridge rowing crew, and mean that each man shall give more than he has. The spirit of "Row Out" has become the true measure of forensic achievement.

This slogan explains much of the reason why Nebraska Alpha this year promoted the biggest forensic program in the history of the University.

This year's thirty-nine inter-varsity debates more than doubled the total debates of any one previous season. Also the Constitutional Oratorical was another contest added this year to the already large number of annual oratorical contests. The chapter's largest single undertaking was that of being host to Pi Kappa Delta, Province of the Platte, which convention was won by Nebraska Wesleyan with a total of thirty points as against the fifteen secured by Hastings College, its nearest competitor.

The Oxford Fellowship is a National Professional Fraternity for Ministerial students in colleges and universities. The organization was definitely formed in 1920, since which time it has gradually increased until there are at this time twenty-five active chapters. Thus far the following denominational schools are represented in the fellowship: Lutheran, Presbyterian, Christian, Methodist, and Non-Sectarian. The members of this organization seek to live the Christian life as real men, and by so doing to challenge other stalwart Christian men of high intelligence and worthy motives to give their life to thorough preparation for the ministry of Christ's Gospel.

MISS ENID MILLER
Coach of Forensics

One might suppose that it would be an almost impossible task for one person, in the course of a school year, to coach four debate teams, five orators, three extempore speakers, four dramatic productions, take part in one, teach regular classes, conduct regular lessons, and still have time left to sponsor the junior class.

You might also suppose, that attempting these things, some of them would be left undone. Not so.

In addition to the seven oratorical championships, two national oratorical championships, a regional Pi Kappa Delta oratorical championship, a state extempore speaking championship, and a state championship in debate, won by the proteges of Miss Enid Miller, there has been added for 1928-29 these:

A national peace oratorical championship, a national Pi Kappa Delta by-mail championship, a state oratorical championship, a state extempore speaking championship, a regional men's oratorical Pi Kappa Delta championship, a regional women's oratorical Pi Kappa Delta championship, a regional men's extempore speaking Pi Kappa Delta championships. Furthermore, Miss Miller's debaters have completed the heaviest debate schedule in the history of the school, in which the men's and women's teams have met forty-one teams representing nineteen colleges and universities from seven different states, losing only 14 contests..

Truly, she must be "A very remarkable Fellow".

Cecil Stanley made the State Oratorical loving cup ours when he won the local and state oratorical contest. Laura Margaret Fried was first in the Local Women's oratorical contest, and won the Provincial Pi Kappa Delta contest, Harold Bosley came out ahead in the Extemporaneous Speaking bout when he entered the Pi Kappa Delta meet. William Brown won the local Constitutional Oratorical award in Oratory. Berniece Foster helped pile up points for Wesleyan in the Provincial Pi Kappa Delta contest when she took first in Women's Extemporaneous contest. Edwin Frohart was the winner of the cup offered to the first in Freshmen Oratory, the first Freshmen contest held at Wesleyan.

With six varsity men from the previous year in school and a championship freshman team to draw from, debate spirit ran high. When it was learned that trips had been scheduled to Minnesota, South Dakota, and Iowa on the north, and Kansas and Missouri on the south, it exceeded all bounds. Out of the resulting furor were selected nine men to represent the school men's debate and four young ladies to represent us in women's debate. The men's affirmative, composed of Ford McCoy, Bill Brown, Donald Swanson, Harold Reid and Warren Guthrie defended the question: Resolved, that a substitute for trial by jury should be adopted.

The girl's team of Thelma James, Eva Kailey, Berniece Foster and Rose Marie Fellers represented Wesleyan in ten debates losing only five, three on the affirmative and two on the negative. Pawnee City	Omaha
Fairbury	KFAB
Rising City	WCAJ

The quartet was assisted by Vern Livingston as reader, and Edward Lockwood as pianist and manager.

University Chorus

"The Messiah"

The University Chorus is made up of one hundred and fifty voices, selected by try-out, and is directed by Dean Parvin Witte.

The chorus was organized in 1914, and closed its first year with a membership of eighty voices. The work of the society is to study and render in concert form the standard and classic oratorios, both sacred and secular, and may include the rendition of operas in concert form.

During the second season "The Messiah" was sung at Christmas time and Mendelssohn's "Elijah" closed the year's work.

The Wesleyan Chorus and Orchestra presented the Oratorio "Elijah" during the first Annual May Music Festival, May fifth and sixth, 1924, assisted by famous artists. Verdi's "Requiem" was presented in 1925. In January, 1927, Rossini's "Stabat Mater" was given. The production of the Messiah has become an annual feature of Commencement Week.

The choir at First Church is directed by Dean Parvin Witte and is made up of seventy-five voices selected from the chorus.

Wesleyan Band

The band and orchestra under the direction of Professor Knies has put in a very successful year. There has been an increasing amount of interest shown, and a great deal of progress has been made. The band during the year has played at all athletic contests, armistice day parade in Lincoln, and a series of concerts conducted this spring. The band this year is composed of forty members, and the orchestra includes twenty-five members. Continuing next year under the excellent supervision of Professor Knies, a real organization is assured for our university.

RADIO STATION WCAJ, Nebraska Wesleyan University's own broadcasting station was established in 1921, and is one of the pioneer stations of Nebraska, WCAJ now operates on a frequency of 590 K.C., or a wave length of 508.2 Meters, dividing time with WOW at Omaha. The studio transmitting equipment, located on the fourth floor of the C. C. White Building, has now been considerably improved and the hours of broadcasting greatly increased.

Student Volunteers

"The Purpose of God in the Light of the World."

The Student Volunteer Movement is a student Christian missionary organization, international in its activities, interdenominational in character, with its aim to interpret foreign missions to each successive college generation and to enlist a sufficient number of well-qualified candidates for missionary service abroad.

The movement on our campus is carried on by the local Student Volunteer Band which, in order to fulfill its aims has the following purposes:

To help all students on the campus to broaden their world view, by giving a survey of present conditions in foreign lands, and the relationship of these conditions to those of America.

To help prospective missionaries in preparing for their life work, and to enlist their cooperation in developing the missionary life of the home churches.

To help students who are to remain in the homeland that they may return to their communities better equipped to promote the missionary enterprise.

To relate missions to other world movements as a significant force in realizing true world brotherhood.

The weekly meetings, varied to realize these purposes, have been abundant in affording the values of grace, unity, loyalty and friendship to a degree which any organization might well desire.

The Nebraska Student Volunteer Convention at York denoted a marked renewal of missionary interest among the colleges and universities of the state. The Convention was most fortunate in obtaining a staff of exceptional speakers which included Miss Winifred Wygal, national Student Council chairman of the Y.W.C.A.; John Elder, missionary from Persia; Arthur Rugh, head of Christian Education movement in China; and Dr. Walter Judd, brilliant missionary surgeon from Southern China, and prominent student leader of the middle west.

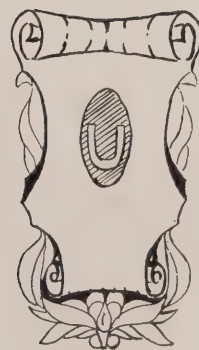

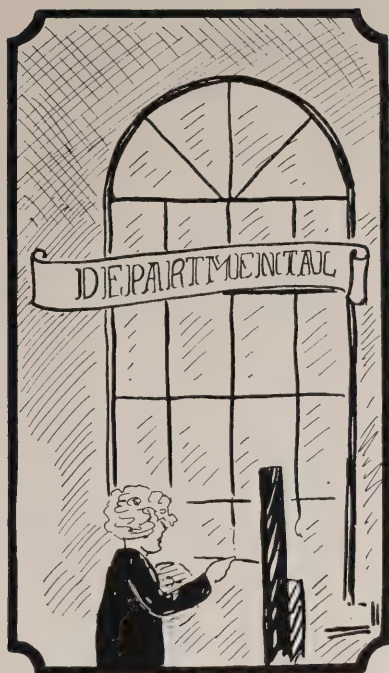

The Nebraska State Student Volunteer Union had the following officers from Nebraska Wesleyan University: President, Willard Weary; Editor of State Bulletins, Ollie Leavitt; Business Manager of Bulletins, Paul Anderson.

Practical Training for Religious Leadership

Nebraska Wesleyan University makes a serious attempt to train Christian leaders who can go back into their home communities and assume Christian responsibility. In addition to the courses for special training in religious work for church and community leadership, the department of Religious Education is giving special attention to students in their personal religious development. In order to encourage student interest in lay leadership in the local church, Mr. A. L. Allen has given two scholarships of fifty dollars each to industrious students so inclined.

The major projects which carry out the above aims consist of Leadership Training (gospel) teams, early morning religious service exclusively given by college students, summer Vacation Bible School teaching and leadership, and Studies in Christian Living for High School Students.

1. Students frequently go out over the week end to different churches and lead in various ways. This affords the young people of the local communities an opportunity to meet the college students. The results are mutually wholesome.
2. A morning religious service is given each day of the week at 7:30 A. M. over radio station WCAJ. This is given entirely by students selected by a committee representing the Christian organizations on the campus. Opportunity is here given for college students to direct the morning devotions to a large radio audience.
3. Wesleyan launches a pioneer project this summer. A number of Wesleyan students will receive benefit in teaching and conducting Vacation Bible Schools. Twelve students will assist in this field of work this summer.
4. Studies in Christian Living is a plan initiated by Prof. Emme whereby High School Students study three topics. This plan is working on eight districts. At a final contest on each District at the summer Institute scholarships to Wesleyan are awarded to the winners.

Psychology Journal Club

The Psychology Journal Club includes in its possible membership all students who are making their major or minor in the field of psychology or who have made superior records in the introductory course in psychology. At the programs of the monthly meetings, resumes are given of important articles in the 15 monthly Psychology journals which come to the Wesleyan library. Some of the apparatus with which students work is shown in the picture above. The present value of the department apparatus is over $3,000 and is steadily increasing.

Sinac Etyoc is the honorary fraternity of the Zoology Department. To obtain and to foster a scientific spirit and attitude in the field of Zoology, by studying its latest advances in research and their importance to mankind are the purposes of this society.

Formerly any student who had shown special aptitude in the science of Zoology was elected to this organization. This year with the purpose of knitting more closely together the members in the spirit of zoological interest and research the admission to the club was limited to only those majoring or minoring in the department.

Book Three

Wesleyan's Fairest

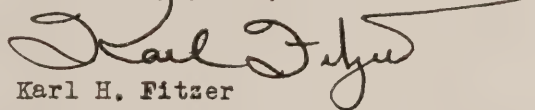

April 16, 1929

Miss Ruth E. Miller
Editor, 1929 Coyote
Nebraska Wesleyan University
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Miss Miller:

In sending your beauties to me to be judged, you gave me one of the hardest tasks that you possibly could think of. Imagine being confronted with a large group of attractive young ladies and being asked to pick out the most beautiful. I sent the photographs to you several days ago and hope that my selection will meet with your approval. Of course, I was greatly handicapped in judging from the photographs only, as the personality should be a large factor in determining the winners. Every young lady in the group was of a decided lovely type and it was only too bad that I could not give them all first place.

Very truly yours,

Karl H. Fitzer

Miss Beth Hinson

Did the stadium drive go over? And how! Great was the rejoicing when student chapel, with Miss Miller's help, made it possible for us to send the telegram of success to the Chancellor. After a rally, the first shovel-ful of dirt was dug by Miss Miller and Coach Alabaster.

Ivy day is an impressive part of Commencement week. Harold Sandall was the orator of the class of '28. John Gewacke, the senior class president, presented the cap and gown to Amos Morrison, the president of the class of '29. The planting of the ivy closed the service.

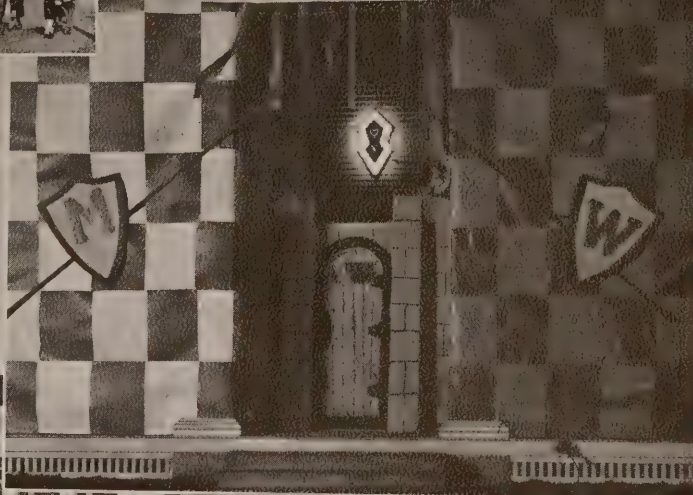

House decorations for Homecoming day were judged at night this year, with the Sigma Alpha Iotas and the Phi Kappa Taus winning first places. The Pep Club put on clever stunts between halves of the game that we triumphantly won. The eyes of the crowd followed the balloons as they floated across the field.

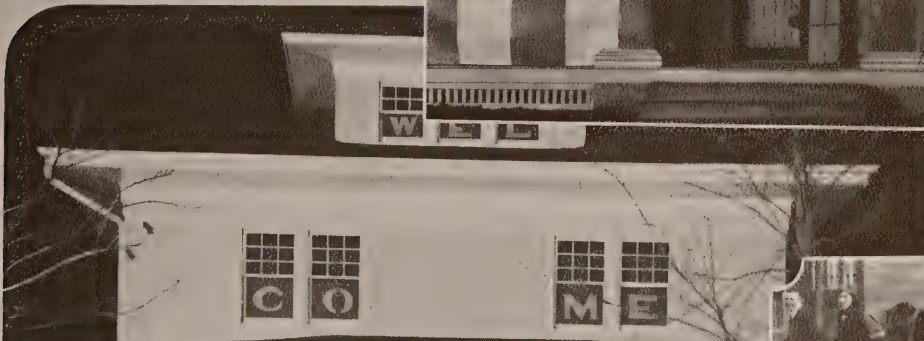

TOURNAMENT OF SUNFLOWER
Where true knights joust to win
the hand of Miss Victory

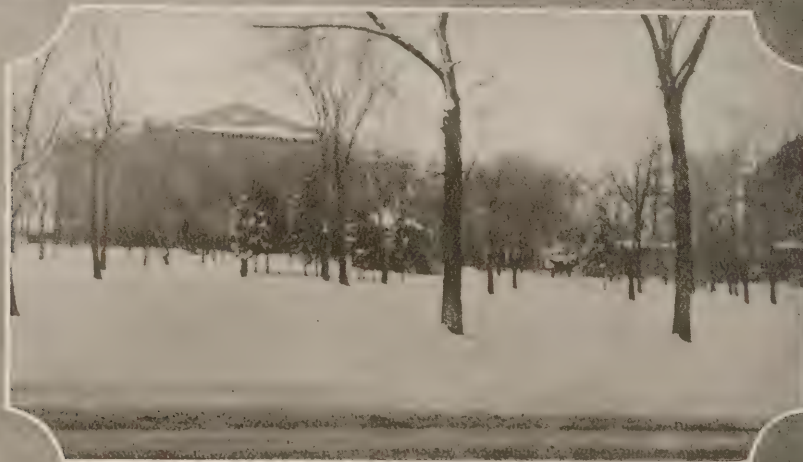

Numerous and successful were the pep rallies of the football season. We see here the team in front of a big bonfire the night before Homecoming Day. Through the town and across the campus howled the Coyote enthusiasts.

*Snow, snow, and more of it last winter!
But it made the campus a beautiful place.
Main building, the archway, the gymnas-

The class of '29 was formally presented to the Chancellor of Nebraska Wesleyan in the Recognition Day service in November. The seniors held a breakfast in Lincoln before the program at convocation-time at which Mr. A. K. Williams was the orator.

*"We are the Seniors of Renown, of Renown!"
Do you know them? It's their last year as undergraduates on the Wesleyan campus.*

More twenty-niners, in formal and informal poses. They have a deeper feeling now when they sing, "We soon must yield our places to mightier ones than we."

"The Romantic Age" was the senior dramatic production of the class of '28. Maybe you can guess how this collection of sorority and fraternity insignias happened to be together. Here is the Glee Club as they appeared on their successful trip in March. And the last picture is one of the new home of our Chancellor and Mrs. Schreckengast who so generously invite students to see them.

Athletics

Book Four

HEAD COACH ALABASTER

Elected to the position this year Alabaster was facing a rather difficult position. The Wesleyan team had just finished a season without any wins and the present season did not look any too promising. "Ally" piloted the team to a victorious season. Coach Alabaster was formerly a Coyote grider having been one of the greatest quarters that Wesleyan has had. Until this year he was the freshman coach preparing a team to scrap with the varsity. He spent most of his time this year with the backfield drilling them in what turned out to be beautifully executed plays. He has won confidence from the whole team and seems to be able to put into the team a will to win.

LINE COACH PETERSON

Peterson came to us from a college in Illinois to take over the job of building Wesleyan a line that would hold. A former football man playing at Nebraska where he was recognized for his work at center by a position on the All American squad. Pete knocked, battered or beat the material into one of the best lines of the Conference. His line held the Conference leaders from coming even close to the goal line.

THE TEAM

KENNETH KELLOUGH

Halfback

Captain

Captain Kellough will go down in Wesleyan's Hall of Immortals of the Gridiron, for as leader of the Coyote Pack he drove the men on to a winning season. He was a hard smashing little halfback that always could give those yards when called for. A captain who was always well-liked and level-headed.

ROBERT McCONNAHA

End

Captain-elect

Bob is next year's leader of the pack, and a player who filled all the requirements of a good end. He was good at chasing punts, spilling plays, and getting in the other team's way. He will be remembered as an exceptional pass receiver, and a leader whose spirit will be a rally-cry to the men under him. He was placed on the All-Conference team.

KICKING A GOAL

HAROLD JOHNSON Student Manager

Unseen, unsung, and unheard of, the student manager does the majority of the dirty work. Harold's interest for the comfort and the welfare of the team was uppermost in his mind.

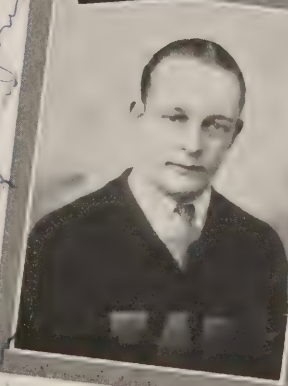

MAURICE LEVICK End

Playing his last year for Wesleyan, Levick played his position well. The opponent's backfield seldom circled his end.

KENNETH PILMORE Halfback

In his last year playing the greatest game of football for the Yellow and the Brown in his career. An injury during the middle of the season kept him out of the last few games.

EMERALD RALSTON

Guard

Another linesman playing a hard position where not much glory is received. He was a hard, consistent fighter, handicapped with injuries.

Well, now in fact is have been in contact with this thing personality brilliant reminds you meeting. I am not the more the little to me.

RICHARD ALLYN

Center

Playing a difficult position, Dick handled it mighty well. No defeats were chalked up this year because of bad passes from center. He has another year.

ROSS BONHAM

Guard

A letterman at guard whose playing was exceptional. He was a strong big man who was a fighter from start to finish.

HAROLD BOSLEY

Tackle

Afflicted with a shoulder that bothered him all season, Bosley played a mighty good game at his position. He could fill almost any hole when he was needed.

MARION CROWELL

End and Halfback

Starting the season at an end position and then shifting to the backfield, Crowell was something of a sensation. In the backfield he was quick to solve the opponents offense, and he was a good ball-lugger.

*Carl I owe a lot to you, something yours helped me save, did again for the best time I ever had, you were direct & reasonable. With holes of the future being brought your best friend
 "mudge"*

STANLEY HAWLEY

Guard

Hawley was a dependable steady player who could tear his way through almost any line to smear the play. An asset to any team.

MAURICE THOMPSON

Tackle

A smashing, driving tackle who received recognition for his work by being chosen for the tackle position on the All-Conference Team.

CLIFFORD BOSLEY

Fullback

A powerhouse on offense when smashing the line. His accurate toe was a factor in adding many points to the Wesleyan score. He was handicapped this year with injuries.

EARL SMITH Tackle

A lineman that could be called on when needed to hold the line. He was a tackle with beef, when beef was needed.

GEORGE MILLER

Quarterback

A whirling, shifty, brilliant backfield man, Miller's generalship seldom faltered. Passing, kicking, and running, he carried the team on to victory. He was placed on the All-Conference Team.

CECIL STANLEY

Guard

A guard of exceptional quality. A stone wall on defense, and a hole-ripper on offense, sensing the plays before they started. He was given a berth on the All-Conference Team.

SHELDON WARGA

Tackle

Warga was a frosh of unusual ability. He started the season at fullback, but was moved up into the line at tackle, to finish the season playing a good game at that position.

LYLE BRIGGS

Quarterback

A fast little backfield man playing his first year of varsity football. He is a heady little player and steered the team well when he was at the helm.

The Games

The 1929 football season was a credit to any school. Playing one of the hardest schedules that Wesleyan has ever known, the Coyotes won five, lost two, and tied two, making a total of nine games.

The first game of the season was on the home gridiron with Tarkio college as the opponents. The game closed with Wesleyan the victors 6 to 0. The game showed that Wesleyan was again in the conference with a strong defensive team.

The second game was with Grand Island college who was smothered 60 to 0. Wesleyan seemed to find her offensive power late in the game and once it was uncorked there was no bottling to it. Miller ran the ball thru the entire G.I. team for a touchdown, and McConnaha carried two passes over for scores.

The next game was an out of conference game played with Kearney Teachers at Kearney. Wesleyan slipped ahead by a 7-6 win. A real mud battle with Kearney scoring by a blocked kick rolling over the goal line. Warga scored for Wesleyan.

Back in the Conference for the fourth game with Midland, Wesleyan tied Midland 0-0. This was the fourth time in six games with that school that the results have been scoreless ties. Wesleyan was within scoring distance but lacked the additional drive to go over.

One of our traditional enemies, Cotner, was next. This was one of the most thrilling, nerve racking games of the season. It was truly an offensive drive game. Each team gained the lead to lose it again. The whistle ended it with Wesleyan leading 26 to 21. Wesleyan held in the last quarter after she had gained the lead.

In the Homecoming game the Coyotes tangled with the Maroons of Morningside and defeated them decisively 13 to 0. The papers had predicted Wesleyan to lose by a large score. Miller thrilled the crowd with a long pass to McConnaha and again with a 70 yd. run for a touchdown.

Wesleyan suffered her first defeat in the next game. Doane with an early period drive scored the only score of the game. The game was played in a drizzling rain with the playing field a mass of mud. Players were covered from head to foot with mud.

The biggest game of the year was with the Haskell Indians at Lawrence, Kansas. There Wesleyan learned what it meant to face the red-skins and lost 60-0. The second team lost the most scalps that game.

Closing the season with a game with the Conference leaders Hastings, Wesleyan was primed to the limit. The weather man was gracious to Hastings and laid a 14 inch blanket of snow on their field and the score was a 0-0 tie. Wesleyan was within scoring distance twice and snowed under any attempt of Hastings to score.

HEAD COACH DOW

"Ren" has been the basket-ball coach at Wesleyan for several years. As a mentor he has had successful seasons, and some disappointing seasons. He knows the game and is able to call for the best work possible from his men.

ASSISTANT COACH ALABASTER

Allie has the tough task of whipping the second-string men into shape to give the varsity something to scrimmage with. It takes a good deal of work to get men to turn out and play when no glory is attached.

No Wesleyan team has ever laid down on the job. The '28-'29 basketball season was marred with many defeats and ended with the Coyotes in the cellar of the conference race. But throughout the season the Wesleyan team played with their usual grimness and fire even with many defeats back of them.

*Too bad "Van", but

FIRST TEAM

LEONEL LODER

Guard

Captain

Loder led the Coyote cagers through a season with many defeats, with an undaunted spirit, and a sportsman's courage. Himself handicapped with an injured knee that slowed up his playing to a marked degree, Loder was one of the best guards in the Conference.

STANLEY JOHNSON

Guard

Captain-elect

Stanley was a teammate of Loder's that gave Wesleyan a pair of excellent guards. Stud was like a rugged rock on defense, and was usually good for a few baskets. He will work to lead the Coyotes to a victorious season next year.

No game was lost without a fight, and no game was lost by a large score. Wesleyan's failure seemed to be in her inability to score on her free throws. Several games were lost that would have been won if the Coyotes had even made half of her free throws. It was a season that all schools face at some time, but one that can easily be erased by a victorious one next year.

SECOND TEAM

Loder

WILLIAM HANNUM

Guard

Bill was a guard that when called upon to fill someone's shoes could be depended upon not to let the defensive slip any. Bill was a fast player and a scrapper.

MORTON DICKSON

Guard

A fighting guard who was able to fill whosoever shoes were put on him. In his first year of varsity playing he performed accreditably.

HAROLD KILLINGER

Center

A good fighter, and a good center. He was an accurate basket-tosser whose defensive play was outstanding.

S. Johnson

Ward

M. Johnson

Miller

JOHN WARD

Forward

Johnny was a wiry little whirlwind of a forward whose floor play stood out exceptionally all season. A basket-shooter with a sure eye, and a man with an unconquerable spirit.

MORSE JOHNSON

Center

A center who was sure of the tip-off and a man with a good eye for the basket. Molly was a consistent player and a good floor man.

GEORGE MILLER

Forward

George was one of the fastest breaking forwards that Wesleyan has seen on her floor. A basket-shooter of exceptional quality who could hit from almost any place on the floor.

Intra-Mural Basketball Champions

TeSelle Underwood Dickson McFarland Drake Jones Albert

Intra-Mural Tournament

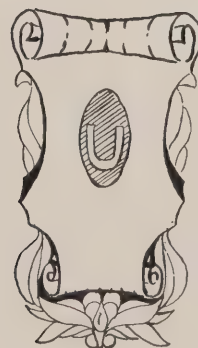

The intra-mural contest this year was put on a different basis from last year. This year the title was won by the fraternity having the highest average.

The Theta Phi Sigmas took the trophy from the Delts in whose possession it had been for a year. The Phi Kappa Tau fraternity finished second with the Kappa Sigma Pi team third.

The contest this year lasted over a period of two to three weeks just before the basketball season started.

Basketball letter men were not allowed to compete and neither were football lettermen. This gave the coach an opportunity to look over any new material that he might have. Each fraternity played every other team once.

This intra-mural contest stimulates interest in basketball and brings out a good deal of material that otherwise might remain unearthed.

Wesleyan Track Team

HAROLD KILLINGER, Captain

With the completion of the new track in the Wesleyan bowl, track activities in Wesleyan have taken a jump upwards. The schedule for the season calls for Dual meets with Doane, Cotner, Midland on the home track. Teams will be sent to the Hastings Relays, to the Dakota Relays, Drake Relays and to the Conference Meet at Hastings.

Wesleyan is carrying on an All-Season Intramural meet with points awarded to marks made during the season. An Inter-fraternity meet is to be held lasting only one day. A tetraholon championship is to be awarded to the man holding the best records in four events. An inter-class meet is also to be staged.

Bostock

Briggs

The Wesleyan tennis squad is playing a rather extensive schedule this year with home to home games with Hastings, Midland, Doane, Cotner, and York. The tennis teams consist of Thomas, Ward, Guthrie and Reid.

Last year Calvert, a member of the Coyote team, won the inter-collegiate state championship. With both Calvert and Deuser gone this year only McCoy and Thomas remain as a nucleus. Ward a former tennis player, is back in school again this year and his returning was well received by the tennis team.

Golf is a new addition to the Wesleyan sports having had its first trial last year. The places on the team are only temporary berths unless the holders are able to defeat all challengers. They are ranked according to whom they have defeated. At the present time Waldo Nichols and William Beckman are number one and two respectively.

The golf teams schedule is the same as that of the tennis teams. They have nine matches for the season and the two teams make the trips together.

The "Pep" Club

The Purpose of this organization is to instill in the students a spirit of true sportsmanship, to keep before them an example of faithful support of the team whether it is winning or losing, to recognize superior tactics when displayed either by opponents or Coyotes.

The Pep Club this year is the merging of the Knights of the Koyote Klan, the boys' organization, and the Coyote Cadet Corps, the girls' club. They have conducted special stunts, and sponsored several student rallies successfully this year. Members are selected by the Blue Key and the Purple Arqus.

*Dear Old Wesleyan,
There's no other school but you—
I love your classes,
Your lads and your lasses—
Your spirit thrills me through and through;
Dear Old Wesleyan,
To your colors I'll be true—
Aid your endeavor
Honor forever
O Wesleyan, I love you!*

MRS. CLARA RIESLAND BRANDT

Coach of Women's Athletics

The Women's Athletic Association is an organization which encourages the formation of health habits and promotes interest and participation in games and athletics and all forms of physical activity which make for health and efficiency. To become a member enables one to work for a "W". One hundred twenty-five points are required for membership. To earn points one must become a member of a first, second, or third team in any of the following sports: hockey, tennis, volley-ball, basketball, baseball, archery, rifle practice, horseback riding, swimming, golf, and field and track events.

Physical Education is seeking to develop the masses, to raise the standards of the masses, morally, mentally, as well as physically, and to make them social assets. The aims are: to develop health, not just a negative condition represented by absence of physical defects, but glad, radiant, positive abundant health. To develop strong muscles and strong, well-poised bodies; to make boys and girls organically sound; to develop good neuromuscular control; to set standards of living; and to teach boys and girls wise use of leisure time, and to give them the means of using it more wisely.

Inter-Sorority Tournament

The Alpha Delta Omega sorority won the right to hold the loving cup presented by the W.A.A. after many hard battles.

This is the first time that an inter-sorority basketball tournament has been held, and it is considered quite a success, and will be continued in the future.

The semi-finals seemed to be the best games. The Alphians defeated the Delta Phis by a 32-24 score; while the O. G. C. was defeated by the Alpha Gamma Delta 15-24.

In the championship game, the Alphians took the lead early in the game and played like good athletes. The final score was 35-11.

Eberhart, Yost, and Burkitt played a good game for the winners; while Mulliken and Winslow seemed to be the mainstay of the losers.

High School Day

Fifteen hundred high school students were the guests of Wesleyan on April 26 on the twelfth annual high school day. The campus was thrown open to the students in order to interest them in college, and especially in Wesleyan. Scholastic and athletic contests were held during the day. In the evening, the Wesleyan Players presented "Bab" in the auditorium.

All-College Party

The first all-university affair was held in the gymnasium under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. The crowd assembled, and it was found that the evening was to be a week on Broadway, the men being privileged to have seven dates in a few short hours. Between each part of the program the boy found his girl for the next night. On Sunday night, the crowd disbanded for their hours of quietness.

Second University Affair

The second all-university function was sponsored by a representation from the student body and from the faculty. This committee divided the students into eight groups, the students from each of the congressional districts forming the different groups.

Each bunch put on a stunt; perhaps it was representing their district; perhaps it was a take-off on something about the school; and perhaps it was given as a stunt "That had to go over." The whole evening caused much merriment, and the faculty who furnished the refreshments were much appreciated too.

*Some of you may think that it's a pretty easy job
To toss off all these silly cracks to try to please the mob,
But no matter what we say or do or think or write
Half the blooming campus comes out looking for a fight.*

*For no one really likes it when they get a dirty dig—
They're insulted and they're mad—the writer is a pig.
So in this attempt to please you we'll try to do our best,
But don't get sore and start a scrap when you get yours with the rest.*

FRESHMEN

We have freshmen because we must—there is no other reason why the campus should be cluttered up every year with so much unassimilable material. The illustration shows the lowly Frosh just as some loving upperclassman hauls him off the train.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomores, as the name implies, are freshmen with the bloom of novelty worn off. They have discovered that the world is a serious place, and the picture to the left shows the log cabin in the midst of the forest with just a hint of the footsteps out after mousetraps.

JUNIORS

These irresponsible irrepressibles sit in the back of the center of the room and raise Cain. We offer a composite view of the Junior class—. Note especially the expressive countenance and the clear, bright eyes.

SENIORS

A sad, serious lot—the mainstay of the college. If the faculty could not dispose of this earnest lot every year the Freshmen would think that University was a place to study. We offer a flashlight photo-obtained by the management at the greatest expense—of a Senior saying goodbye to the janitor of his favorite Sorority house.

EVERETT

A group of struggling young men who were founded in a moment of spite and have continued ever since. They really know better but are ashamed to admit it. Once or twice had a new house. Hobbies: Old cars and breaking Victrola records.

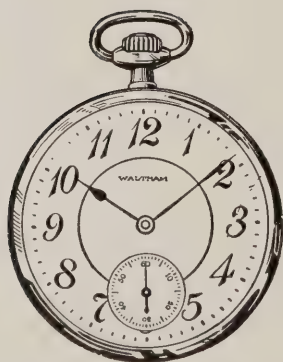

Motto: There's so much bad in the best of us—

PHI KAPPA TAU

A bunch of boys too young to be in college and too onery to be anywhere else. Possess a new house and a large chapter. Believe themselves invincible in athletics, dates, and scholarship. The less said about them the better. Pledged a great many men last fall and initiated a few.

Motto: 'It's better to have loved and lost than to never have loved at all.

THETA PHI SIGMA

The campus minute men. They are the men who can tell all they know in a minute. Own a Uni Place house remodeled to suit colonial ideas. Have a large and variegated membership which may amount to something if they hang around long enough. Let their old men walk home.

Motto: The only flower that never fades is the blooming idiot.

KAPPA SIGMA PI

An association of ex-card sharps and crap shooters. Chief claim to fame is a deceptive innocence automatically assumed when a Dean heaves to within twenty feet. Have a great reputation for rowdiness. Most remarkable lady killer; Gaius Watt.

Motto: Virtue is its own reward.

DELTA OMEGA PHI

Administration's greatest worry. Once suspected of running a speakeasy. Further investigation proved that it was just a speakeasy. Most popular seniors: Paul-Hugh-Amos-James-Galen-Willard. Take your pick and dig a hole. Really don't amount to much.

Motto: United we stand, divided we fall.

BETA KAPPA

Quarantined for scarlet fever and the bulbonic plague. Or it might have been halitosis. Have lots of old fords. Lockwood brothers and Ford McCoy probably most famous. Live next door to the Dean of Women.

Motto: I wanta be bad.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

- Started life a long time ago as the female Theophanians. Since going national they have acquired six second-hand davenports and the Chan's old house. This may be in their favor. Distinguished for their ability to pledge Freshmen early in the year.

Flower: Russian thistle.

Colors: Christmas.

Motto: Don't cry, little girl, don't cry.

DELTA PHI

Of doubtful origin. Probably just grew. Overloaded with Phys Ed Majors and women from Wyoming. Great on picnics, old fords, and olives. More or less dangerous when aroused, but harmless if well treated.

Flower: Forget-me-not.

Colors: Black and blue.

Motto: Oh Delta Phi—Never say die
You'll get your man bye and bye!

ZETA PHI

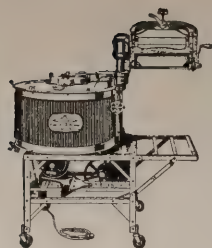

Live on the corner. This is nothing in itself, but it happens to be on the way home for the Theos. Nuff said. De mortuis nil nisi bonum.

Flower: Dandelion.

Colors: Pink and white.

Motto: If it's speed you want, call us.

WILLARDS

Founded many years ago as a woman's auxiliary to the Everetts. Specialties: Fur coats and May daze. All of them suffer from one or the other. Greatest woman: Mil Crom.

Flower: Same as the Zeta Phi's.

Colors: Pink and green.

Motto: It pays to advertise.

BETA PHI ALPHA

Started as a missionary society. Have prospered greatly. Known best for their sun porch. Favorite indoor sport: blinking lights. Outside of this, o. k. Famous for their parties.

Flower: Bittersweet.

Colors: Red and blue.

Motto: Never mind.

ALPHA DELTA OMEGA

Live across street from Beta Phi's. Chief claim to fame: dark corners. Vocation: Aninias club. Avocation: Studies. The less said about them the better. Favorite sport: Engagements.

Flower: Same as the Willards and Zeta Phi's.

Colors: Black, black, and black.

Motto: Sink or swim,
We're out to win.

ALPHA DELTA THETA

Outgrowth of Orphilia. Favorite remark: That had all the earmarks of a dirty dig. Home for the Shelby girls. Greatest question: Who put the goat in the living room? Noted for Sophomores who think they are tuff.

Flower: Indian paint brush.

Colors: Conglomerate.

Motto: Get your man!

GAMMA MU UPSILON

Clean house occasionally. Have a new house, with a green light on the front porch. Most laughable girls: Harr! Harr!

Flower: Same as the Alpha Delt's.

Colors: Green and brown.

Motto: Gather your rose buds while ye may.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Lately turned professional. Emblem: amplified Pipes of Pan. They pipe up and pan everything. Famous for Bacon and Melton Potts. Occupation: Fine arts. Hobby: Homecoming decorations.

Flower: Bridal wreath.

Colors: Yellow and brown.

Motto: We are, we are, we are,
The girls of SAI.

John: Ah! Here's the place! The good
Dean Ally knew right well this spot
To which we have been ordered.

Elma: (Grasping him by the hand and leading him to gate) Come! Let us try our luck! You know That faint heart—or any other kind—
Ne'er won fair lady! Come!
Knock.

John: Aye! Knock! (Knocks).
(Great commotion behind gates; St.
Peter, hastily adjusting unaccustomed halo, appears at door. Halo slips, but he recovers it. St. Mark jostles him for better look at strangers, and both attempt to recover lost dignity and equilibrium.)

St. Peter: Strangers from the mundane sphere.
Wanderers from afar,
Why disturbest thou my slumbers?

John and Elma: Oh Peter, Guardian of the gate,
We seek the perfect stage. It must Be wide and deep, and with rear entrance.

Pete: Aye! We have such here. But Here it stays, there is no hope.
When you ascend then may you use it. Till then, Below! Below! Below!

Chorus of Angels: There is no hope!
Below! Below! Below!

St. Peter: Seek out old friend Beelzebub.
He was a pal of mine ere Milton
Kicked him out of Heaven.

(Door to heaven slams, and ambo exeunt)

Curtain.

ACT II

Hell

(Shallow stage. Background of leaping flames. Above the fires toasts the chorus of devils. Door casings on side entrances are falling out, and footlights shine in eyes of audience. Curtains jam.
In the foreground, seated on Bunsen Burners, are Memphistopheles, Charon, and the Faculty Committee).

John and Elma come running down the aisles—there is no other way to get on the stage. Charon gives them a helping hand onto the platform.

Satan: Ah ha! At last they all must come to me. What seekest thou, my children? Speak out! I would not harm you.

Chorus: Oh no! He would not harm you!

John and Elma: We seek the perfect stage. Can you direct us—

Satan: Aye! Look about you! Here is all that heart may desire. We give you gladly all that you wish. Take it. Back to Wesleyan.

John and Elma: Thanks! Thanks! (Ambo
exeunt).

Chorus: We hope that you may profit,
By our example! Ha Ha!
Ha Ha!

Curtain.

ACT III

Here on Earth

*You all could recognize this scene.
The usual stage with the usual draw-locks. Just like any play. Audience has appearance of distressing wait.*

John and Elma drop in to watch dress rehearsal of current effort. Are in deep conference with directors and stage committee.

John: Were all our efforts, then, for naught?

Elma: Tell us, did we toil in vain?

Directors: It's the same old stage
With the same old troubles.
You did your best, we're sorry,
But we can do no better.
We'll have to wait.
Until we get to heaven!

Chorus of Devils: (offstage) Ha ha. Ha ha.
You'll have to wait.
Until you get to heaven.

Curtain jams.

The Turn In Life's Road

Life is an old, old road, crowded with people hurrying and struggling, impatient to forge ahead on the uncertain journey.

At twenty, two-sevenths of our "allotted" time is past; at fifty, five-sevenths of the journey is over; and unconsciously we reach the turn in the road.

Life is what we make it. When you have learned this, then you know the secret of it all. Things are brought about,—they do not just happen. This applies especially to accumulating money.

The Building and Loan Associations have a very practical plan devised to assist people to shape their financial or material destiny. It is up to every individual to determine whether he intends to rise or sink, and the starting of a Savings Account is a step toward better things.

Here is the Secret of Financial Independence

Spend less than you earn.
Invest the difference wisely.
Reinvest your dividends.

Sincerely, Mrs. Brown.

There was a duck from Arlington, he didn't amount much but why waste time on family history. Don't forget "Mac" of N.W.U.

Remember the Orchestra

Just think of what a grade you would get in Trig if I waited for me - Ahem! And how would I get along without Old Sol?

W.E.D. of N.U.

Earl I sure have been very envious of you and of some of the girls you have dated. That is my fault. ha, ha. I sure admire
you. your friend, Merrill Smith.

Do you know that you'll be a very old man before I ~~sign~~ ^{sign} that other pair of shoes. Have you forgotten that Duane Carson

Dear Dan:

your writing is really good and I don't think I'll follow.

Dear Earl, We have had so many good times here at the house, that I hardly know which ones to mention. I hope next year will be a big year for Delt. We'll certainly have to work. We will be all for one and one for all. you have certainly been coming up since you have been in Wesleyan. I hope you will continue. Be good this summer.

Luck and success.

Fraternally,

"Red" Lawrence J. Reed
"Pee Wee" "Step and a Half"
"Runt" "Grange"

you will be a truly great violinist. So when you're at the top - don't forget me. - will you?

Alexis hoping to see you next year & to play with you also.

Lots of luck & happiness

Ruth. (P. 78)

Will see you next year Vass. I am glad to know you and hope to know you even better next year. Joe
